

BHARATI VIDYAPEETH'S
COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING, LAVALE, PUNE, 412 115
Program for Engineering aspirant students

Day 1: 22nd May 2017

Bharati Vidyapeeth's College of engineering Lavale, Pune, conducted a short term training course for students those have appeared HSC exam. The course duration was 22nd May to 26th May 2017. In this course college faculty taught C Programming and Auto CAD. The session on 22nd may was conducted by Prof. Prajakta Pawar.

The contents delivered in first session were Fundamentals of Computer, history of Programming languages, introduction to C Programming, features of C, character set of C, variable declaration and assignments, Simple C programs implementation & execution etc. Students had practical session as well for the implementation of topics taught in lecture hours. The response from students was very good as they enjoyed learning new things and had shown great interest during practical sessions.

Day 2: Program for Engineering aspirant students

Date: 23rd May 2017

---

REPORT

Second day i. e. 23 May 2017 of program began at 10.00 am. It was scheduled for C Language programming topics. Students of 12th standard were present for program. As per Schedule of program Prof. Megha Patil covered topics of operators and Input- Output and also introduced Functions topic. The Lecture continued till 12.00 pm. Session from 10.am to 12 pm was conducted for theoretical Lecture. All points were taught with the help of PPTs and white board to make student's better understanding and clearing concepts.

From 12 pm to 12.30 pm there was recess time.

Practical session started around 12.30 p.m. in which practicals related to topics taught in Lecture session were conducted. A simple and small programs related to topics were covered Practical session. Practical session continued till 2.10 p. m.

Report

Day 3 Program for Engineering aspirant students

REPORT

Day 4 & 5: Program for Engineering aspirant students

Bharati Vidyapeeths College of Engineering Lavale Pune has conducted a short term training course on basic C programming language and Auto-CAD software for students those have appeared HSC exam. The course duration was 22-05-2017 to 26-05-2017. In this course college faculty taught C Programming and Auto CAD.

The training course was divided into sessions. Session was conducted by Prof. Prajakta Pawar, Prof. Megha Patil, Prof. Priyanka Yadav, Prof. S.T Rathod and Prof. S.N.Kadam.

The contents delivered in first session were Fundamentals of Computer, history of Programming languages, introduction to C Programming, features of C, character set of C, variable declaration and assignments, Simple C programs implementation & execution, operators and Input- Output and also introduced Functions topic was related to C programming language and Basic commands like “line, trim, copy, grid, snap etc. and drawing of various building structure which was related to AutoCAD software. Students had practical session as well for the implementation of topics taught in lecture hours. The response from students was very good as they enjoyed learning new things and had shown great interest during practical sessions.

